Dear Sir,

I have pleasure, on behalf of the World Health Organization and after consultation with your Government, in inviting you to serve for a period of four years as a member of the WHO Expert Advisory Panel on Health Science and Technology Policy.

Membership of a panel is an honorary appointment. Panel members are asked to give the Organization the benefit of their knowledge and to inform it of important developments in their own subjects, particularly in the countries in which they are working.

As you will see from the enclosed Regulations for Expert Advisory Panels and Committees, a panel member undertakes "to contribute by correspondence technical information on developments in his or her field, and to offer advice as appropriate, spontaneously or upon request". The panel members may in turn obtain upon request the same type of information from WHO in so far as it is available and unrestricted. Those panel members invited to take part in a meeting of an expert committee will have their travel and related expenses reimbursed to them by the Organization.

I should be glad to know if you are willing to accept this invitation.

Yours faithfully,

for Hiroshi Nakajima, M.D., Ph.D.
Director-General

I am honored by this invitation and happily accept
